

Assistant Professor (beginning to advanced) of 20th/21st Century British and Irish Literature.

The English Department at the University of Wisconsin at Madison is searching for an outstanding teacher-scholar specializing in post-1945 British and Irish literature, with complementary expertise in Anglophone literatures, and/or 20th century modernism. Appointment to begin August 2010. We seek individuals with excellent records of publication and teaching. The position involves a 2/2 teaching load and research and service in the areas that correspond to the candidate's specialty. Applicants should send a letter of application, CV, and research description to Thomas Schaub, Chair, English Department, UW-Madison, 600 North Park Street, Madison, WI 53706. Applications will be reviewed immediately. Full consideration will be given to all applications received by November 27, 2009. A background check may be required prior to employment.

UW-Madison is an equal opportunity/affirmative action employer. We promote excellence through diversity and encourage all qualified individuals to apply.